Re: MUR 6283

Dear Mr. Jordan:

Manfred Schreyer and I have received the complaint filed by Gary A. Nasal, in his personal capacity as a duly registered and qualified elector in Ohio.

He complains, first, that there was not an audible, verbal disclaimer indicating that Mr. Schreyer approved the cable television ad.

Mr. Schreyer was in the ad, speaking the entire time. It was obvious that he was the candidate and, logically then, he approved the ad in support of himself.

Ours was a small, grassroots campaign with a minuscule fraction of the money and expertise of Mr. Boehner's campaign. Our ads were "homemade," with the volunteer help of local college students. We had 30 seconds of time for the ad, and a relatively large portion of the time would have been spent stating the obvious. Both of our ads displayed the written disclaimers.

We have had no other complaints of any kind from anyone in the viewing area. Even Mr. Nasal alleges no harm.

We apologize for the oversight, and ask that no further action be taken against us.

Regarding the second part of the complaint, I filed our first finance and pre-primary report with the FEC by mailing on May 4, 2010, shortly after we had raised and/or spent $5000. I served as campaign treasurer, and called to clarify our filing requirements with the FEC that day. We had conducted most of the campaign, until April 14, 2010, without reaching the $5000 limit. I spoke candidly with the FEC Analyst on May 4, who was most helpful in answering my questions and I sent in all required reports immediately. We have made every effort to comply with the many FEC rules and deadlines in good faith.

The campaign against Mr. Boehner was an interesting learning experience in many respects. We really had no chance of winning against his machine, but we wanted to expand the platform to include some of the unrepresented people in our district and encourage discussion of the issues that face them. We made the effort and many people are grateful. We hope not to be punished for these errors, which we did not intend.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

JANE E. SCHREYER
